From Herman Lazzara

Managing Partner

Last week, we held our 3rd Annual Nonprofit Appreciation Day. It was our honor that Tampa Mayor Jane Castor delivered the opening remarks, and that so many of you attended to learn more about leadership storytelling and winning donor attention. We look forward to our fourth annual event next year, and to offering more of these types of events to other industry focus areas. If you have ideas or suggestions, we would love to hear them.

We're also pleased to deliver this inaugural issue to your inbox and hope you find it valuable. Make sure to take the poll below for your chance to win!

3rd Annual Nonprofit Appreciation Day

On November 14, more than 100 local nonprofit executives and board members attended our 3rd Annual Nonprofit Appreciation Day. The event provided educational training to attendees, networking opportunities with peers, and lunch catered by Metropolitan Ministries, all free of charge. To read more and view the presentations from the event, click below.

The Spring of Tampa Bay

We were honored to participate in The Spring of Tampa Bay's 29th Annual Mabel H. Bexley Gift of Peach Lunch to commemorate the work that The Spring and its partners are doing to prevent domestic violence and support its survivors in our community.

Connect & Propel Tampa

Rivero, Gordimer & Company was pleased to be a sponsor of the recent Connect & Propel Tampa 2019 summit. Several team members were interviewed about Tampa prior to the event and also attended the summit. Learn more about the effort here.
